VOICES ACROSS THE DIVIDE

A documentary telling the historical and human story of the Israeli/Palestinian conflict, followed by an open discussion with filmmaker

Alice Rothchild

Saturday, December 6, 2014 7 PM Unitarian Universalist Church of Ellsworth
Free admission All Welcome 121 Bucksport Rd, Ellsworth, ME

Donations accepted, to go to the Loaves and Fishes food pantry of the local churches.

Alice Rothchild, physician, author, activist, and filmmaker, will be in ME for the unveiling of her portrait by Robert Shetterly at 7 PM Sunday, December 7th at the Blue Hill Public Library, 5 Parker Hill Rd. She will become the latest of over 200 prominent citizens Maine's celebrated artist has selected for his series called "Americans Who Tell the Truth".

Unfortunately, the unveiling event will not include the showing of her powerful, yet down to earth movie. This is your chance to see the movie, talk with Dr. Rothchild, and see why she truly is an "American Who Tells the Truth".

Rabbi Alissa Wise Jewish Voice for Peace
To hear the stories of the Nakba told by those that experienced it reminds us how recent it was, and how critical it is for those still alive to see justice in their lifetimes. Voices Across the Divide is an essential film for all those who hope to one day see peace, justice and equality for Israelis and Palestinians.

Robin Caudell Press-Republican "Palestine, from both sides now"
PLATTSBURGH – In her debut theatrical release, "Voices Across the Divide," Rothchild delivers a rare and powerful documentary that flips the script on the mainstream coverage of Israel and Palestine.

Inez Hedges, Ph.D. Professor of Languages, Literatures and Cultures College of Social Sciences and Humanities Northeastern University Viewing this beautifully directed and edited film is a transformative experience.

Hosted by the Peace and Social Action Committee of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Ellsworth
Sponsored by concerned individuals of the Ellsworth area
