

Good Life Center 2022 Summer Speaker Series

(Former Home of Helen and Scott Nearing, 372 Harborside Rd., Harborside, Maine)

All programs on Sundays, 4 PM, outside under a tent, rain or shine, free admission with donations accepted, CDC Covid Guidelines observed)

- July 3 — Patrick Donovan, environmental teacher at Berkshire School, “Climate Change and Social Justice”;
- July 10 — Matt Murphy, manager of WERU-FM, “Community Radio, Media, and Social Justice”;
- July 17 — Lynne Cherry, environmental writer and children's author, “Research on Black Bears”;
- July 24 — Greg Joly, homesteader and researcher, “Scott Nearing: Resource Wars and the Green Economy”;
- July 31 — Bill Case, Maine Maritime Academy history teacher, “Holocaust and Significance for Today's World”;
- Aug. 7 — Abby Barrows, marine biologist, “Microplastics in the Ocean”;
- Aug. 14 — Julia Bouwsma, poet laureate of Maine and homesteader, “Poetry and the Homestead”;
- Aug. 21 — Gretchen Legler, author of “Woodsqueer” and professor at University of Maine Farmington, “Homesteading in Central Maine”;
- Aug. 28 — Margot Anne Kelley, author of “Foodtopia,” “History of Homesteading Movement.”

The theme of the SSS is 'Living Simply and Sanely in a Troubled World', the byline of the Nearing's classic and iconic book, "Living the Good Life." The goal of the SSS is to confront the progressive community to act in creative and productive ways to the many societal challenges of today's world.

Join us for one or all of the programs. Open to all. For more information:
Good Life Center, wberks@myfairpoint.net or (207) 326-8211 or goodlife.org.

